Dear Y11 student

A Level Bridging

I am pleased to be able to let you know the codes for the different A Level Bridging Google Classrooms that have been set up by subject staff. You are free to join as many classrooms as you wish, particularly if you are unsure about your final A Level choices.

You can join a class by logging into Google Classroom, clicking on the '+' symbol at the top right of the page and selecting 'join class'. Enter the code and you will be added to the subject class.

If you intend to continue your studies at Northallerton Sixth Form College you will be expected to sign up to classes in which you have expressed an interest. Staff will set work with some tasks due in weekly whilst some will be more of a long term project. Some staff have posted work already but all classrooms will be up and running by Monday 27th April.

When you start Year 12 you will be assessed on the work that has been set. This will allow any intervention and support to take place. These classrooms are an excellent opportunity to prepare for your A Level studies and engage with subject staff who are keen to help and support you.

A really exciting opportunity we are offering to Y11 students is the chance to start an EPQ. This is an independent research task that involves you choosing a topic that interests you, whether that be a career interest or just a personal interest. If you wish to know more about starting an EPQ please contact Mr Cadell (cadell.m@northallertonschool.org.uk). There is a Google Classroom for EPQ and we intend to deliver some of the taught skills needed for this qualification.

Please contact me if you have any queries.

Regards

Kathryn Redpath
